

Medi-Kal Resources offers healthcare facilities expert solutions tailored to their requirements. As a comprehensive consulting and project management company, Medi-Kal is always there for its customers, from beginning to end of every project. Through each completed project, Medi-Kal Resources aspires to build long-term relationships with its valuable clientele.

Services and resources provided for contracted projects include: installation, de-installation, site planning and construction, rigging, shipping and trucking solutions, application training and service/warranty packages. In a fully-regulated healthcare environment, imaging equipment such as Computed Tomography (CT) scanners, Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) units or Ultrasound units can be procured to client specifications, inspected, de-installed by expert engineers, rigged, crated and shipped to the client's port of choice for pickup and delivery to the client's medical facility. In many cases, installation and service contracts can be arranged if requested.

Various expert market researchers conclude that the refurbished medical equipment market will reach $9.37 billion by 2019, at a Compounded Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 12.5% from 2014 to 2019. High demand for quality, low-cost medical devices due to increasing privatization in the healthcare sector and rising adoption of refurbished medical devices becoming the market standard.

As the president of Medi-Kal Resources, I value professional and personal integrity above all.

With over twenty years of experience in healthcare management, I have a keen understanding of resource and time management, budgeting, purchasing, negotiating with wholesale vendors, accountability, quality improvement and the maintenance of state and federal certifications for medical offices and equipment. My experience with the utilization of HCPC/CPT codes and ICD-10 codes is invaluable in the current healthcare environment. My affiliation with groups such as the Healthcare Financial Management Association avails me the most current information on continuously updated industry standards.

Medi-Kal's platform is operated on prioritizing necessary resources requested by our customers, and providing quality affordable solutions. Easy accessibility and availability of medical resources are key to customizing these solutions. Long-term positive relationships and customer loyalty is extremely important both to Medi-Kal Resources and to me as the president of the company. Medi-Kal hopes to build these relationships through attention to detail, the needs and the specifications required by each and every client.
